I understand and agree that the eligibility requirements for national registry exams are stipulated by the administering agencies and are subject to change or variation by those agencies without notice to AIMS Education. Therefore AIMS cannot guarantee eligibility for any particular examination. It is the sole responsibility of the student to determine his or her own eligibility for any registry exams that he or she plans to sit for.

The content and respective subject material for the various registry examinations are entirely in the hands of the administering agencies. AIMS will do its best to offer an in-depth and current review. However, the school cannot guarantee individual success for students who take part in these review courses.

The student acknowledges that AIMS does not warrant or guarantee that successful completion of the program and/or review course will result in the student becoming eligible and/or passing any particular registry exam.

By signing below I understand and agree that no representative of AIMS has promised me eligibility for any registry exam. It is my responsibility to determine my own eligibility, and, if eligible, it is also my responsibility to register for the examination(s). I further understand that success on any particular registry exam is not guaranteed.
